

Bill Geist

I attended school in the Altoona Area School District in Altoona, Pennsylvania, graduating from Altoona Area High School in a college preparatory curriculum. Upon graduation from high school, I attended Pennsylvania State University, earning a Bachelor's degree in Elementary Education, a Master's Degree in Educational Administration, and completing post graduate work for certification. I taught sixth grade in Altoona Area School District, and was Supervising Elementary Principal in the Williamsburg Community School District before moving to Utah. I worked in the Jordan School District as an elementary teacher, a middle school teacher and an Elementary School Principal, until the Canyons School District was created. I remained as principal in my assigned building until I retired in June 2013.
